

A LIGHTHOUSE MURDER MYSTERY

THE KEEPER OF CANDLEHOLM

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

How to play

What this is. A murder mystery in 24 windows. Each day from 1 to 24 December you open one window: one page of the keeper's journal and the paper he pinned to it. Day 1 sets the scene, Day 2 is the Sound Book of 2,400 travellers, and Days 3 to 23 each rule some of them out. On Christmas Eve one line is left.

Setting up. Print the set-up pages and the 24 windows. Fold each window into its own envelope (there is a template, or use any envelopes) and stick on the day numbers. On a tablet, just tap today's window on the calendar page.

Each day. Open today's window and read Ezra's entry and the paper with it. Work out what it means, then go through the travellers who are still in the Sound Book and cross out everyone who doesn't fit. The first few days take 20–30 minutes; later days take 5–10.

Who plays. One detective on their own, or up to four working together. Split the Sound Book between you and compare notes.

Check-ins. Windows 6, 12 and 18 tell you how many lines should still be in, so you can catch a slip early.

Stuck?. The hint pages at the back give three levels of help for every window. Each level sits on its own pages, so you only see what you ask for.

The last window. On 24 December, open the last window. Use the Sealed Check to test your answer without spoilers, then open the Envelope (the separate solution file).

Printing tip. The inside pages are mostly white to save ink; each window has one small illustration. Window 2, the Sound Book, is the thick one: print it single- or double-sided, black and white is fine. A highlighter and a pencil are all you need.

Tip from our testers: read each day's papers first, then work through the Sound Book with the strongest filter of the day.

House rules

Every window uses the words below in exactly this sense. If a window seems to have two meanings, this page decides.

Letters	Count letters only. Every name in the Sound Book is a single word with no spaces, hyphens or apostrophes.
Vowels	A, E, I, O and U. In this case Y is never a vowel.
Capital or small	A letter counts whether it is a capital or not: Rennison contains the letter N three times.
Times	The Sound Book uses the 24-hour clock. The almanac uses a.m. and p.m.: 3.46 p.m. is 15:46. "Before" a time means strictly earlier.
Dates	Every date is in December. A line's date is the day of that person's first crossing of the month.
Tally digits	Read all four digits as printed, zeros included: tally 0472 has the digits 0, 4, 7 and 2, which add up to 13.
Landings	Numbered 1 to 24 on the chart in Window 1. The Sound Book gives the number only.
The chart	North is up. Distances are in nautical miles, measured from Candleholm Light.

WINDOW 1 OF 24

1 DECEMBER

The Case

Candleholm is a small green island at the mouth of the Sound of Candleholm, with one white tower, one cottage, a boathouse and a keeper. For thirty-one winters the keeper was Ezra Tullock. He lit the lamp at sunset every evening, wrote up his journal at the kitchen table every night, and shared the stove with a large ginger cat called Bosun.

That December Ezra was keeping more than the light. Christmas parcels for the island of Inishvarra had gone astray for the third winter running, and on the first of the month he found where they went: under an old sail in his own boathouse.

On Christmas Eve, at lighting-up time, Candleholm Light did not come on. Bede Halloran brought the Mail Boat in to the East Landing in the dusk and found Ezra at the foot of the tower stairs. Bosun was sitting beside him. The stove in the kitchen was cold, the journal lay open on the table, and the boathouse was empty.

Superintendent Alma Treleaven, who looks after every light on this coast, sealed Ezra's journal into twenty-four envelopes, one for each day, with the papers he had pinned to each page. Open one a day. By Christmas Eve, one line of the Sound Book will be left.

What we know for certain

- The Sound Book lists every soul who crossed the Sound of Candleholm from 1 to 23 December: 2,400 people, each exactly once, on the day of their first crossing of the month. Later crossings are not written in again: the traveller simply shows the brass, copper or tin tally they were given that first day.
- Each line gives the date of that first crossing and the time the traveller stepped aboard and was given a tally (24-hour clock), the tally number, the name, the home village, the boat, and the number of the landing where the boat put them ashore. Tallies are drawn from a bag, so the numbers are not in date order.
- When anyone in this calendar speaks of how the red cap first came over (the boat, the landing, the time, the tide), they mean that first crossing: the one in the Sound Book.
- Only one soul who crossed the Sound wore a knitted cap the red of a channel buoy, with a white bobble. Everything Ezra wrote about "the red cap" is about that one person, and it is a man.
- Ezra's last entry, on 23 December, says the red cap was coming to Candleholm that night for the parcels. By Christmas Eve the parcels were gone, and nobody else had set foot on the island.
- No two people in the Sound Book share a full name. The chart in Window 1 shows every landing and every home village.

	1 December	FROM EZRA’S JOURNAL
	Wind SW, light. Lamp lit 3.46 p.m. Third December running, the Christmas parcels for Inishvarra are going astray, and Mrs Breck at the post office is beside herself. This morning I found them: eleven parcels under the old sail in my boathouse, labels cut off. Someone is using Candleholm as a cupboard. I have put everything back as I found it. I mean to find out who, and to write it all down here, a day at a time.

Candleholm Light in section

One white tower, five levels, one stair. Ezra lived in the cottage beside it and climbed the tower every evening at lighting-up time to light the lamp. On 23 December he moved the parcels up into the store room.

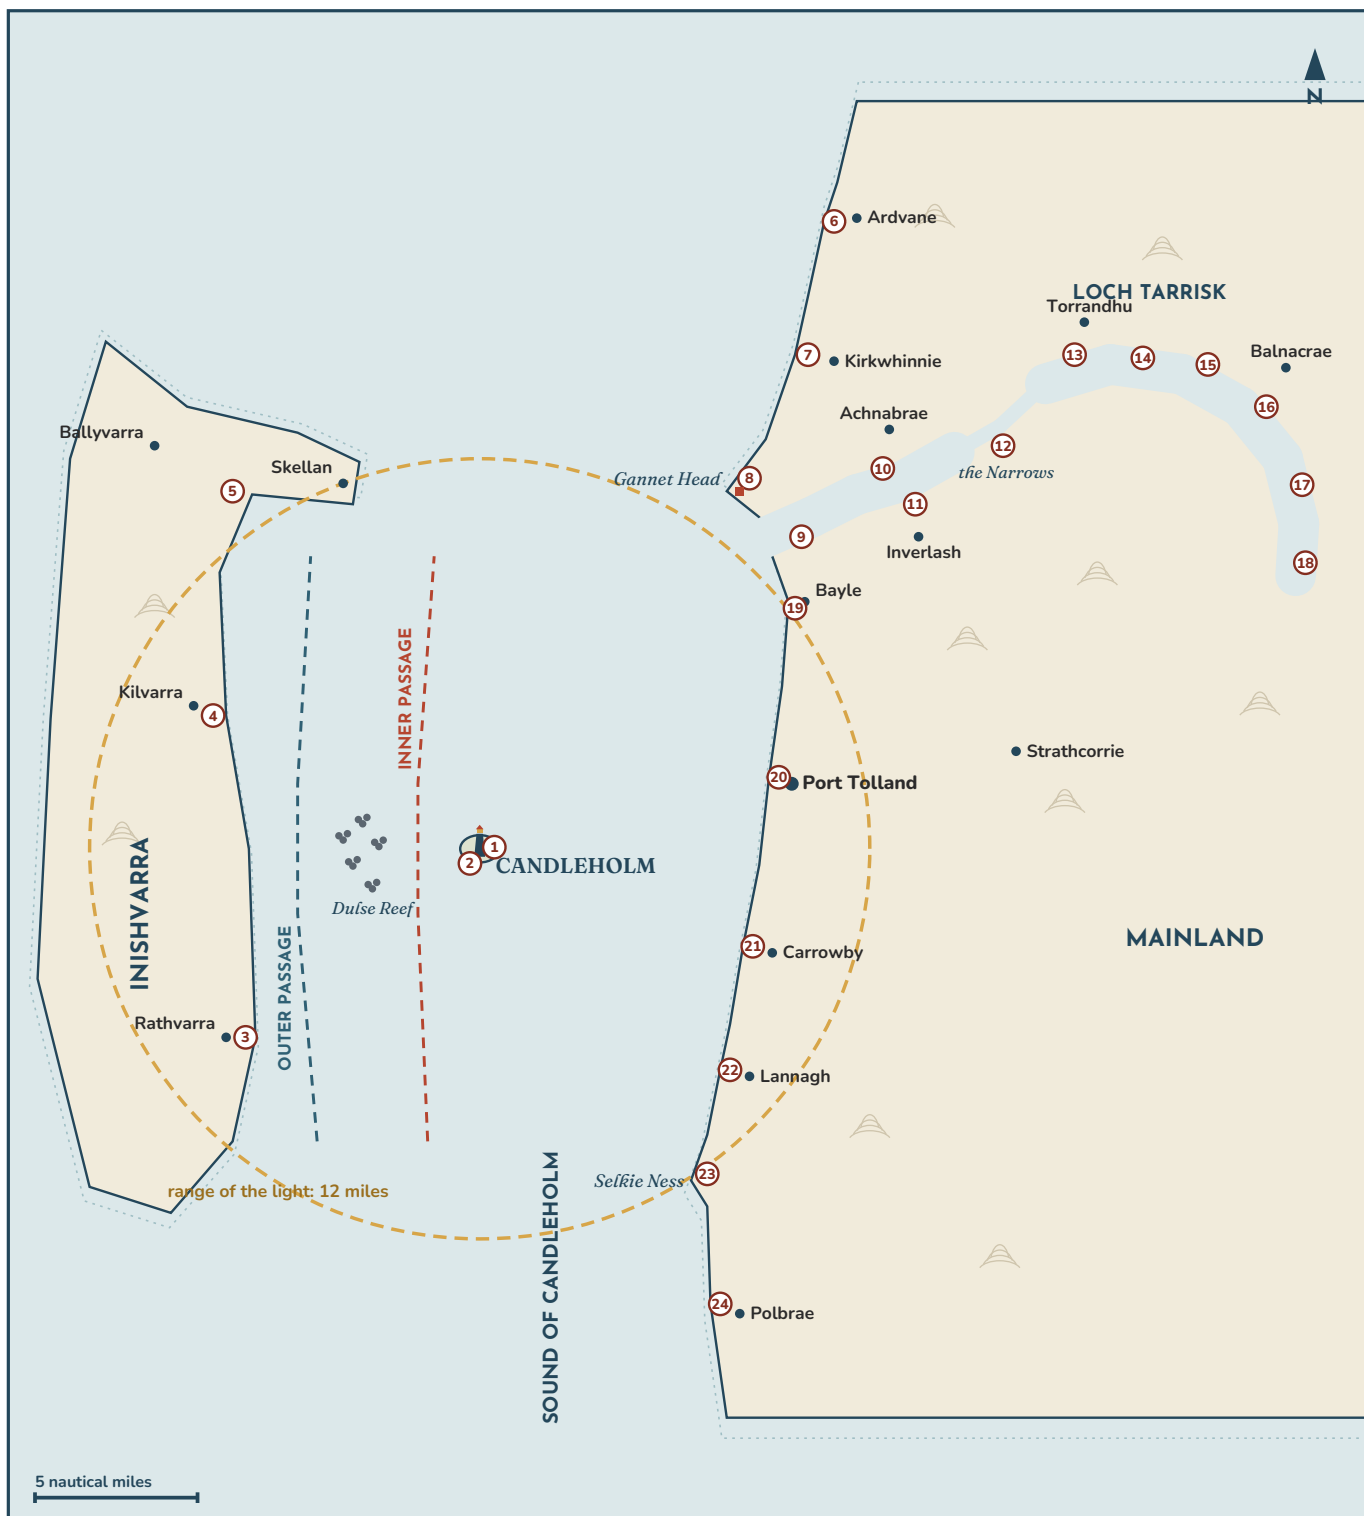

The stair climbs round the inside wall from the door to the lamp room. One door, at the foot.

Numbered circles are the 24 landings; dots are the home villages in the Sound Book. The dashed circle is how far Candleholm Light can be seen. North is up. Every mark on this chart is also written out on the next page.

Other marks

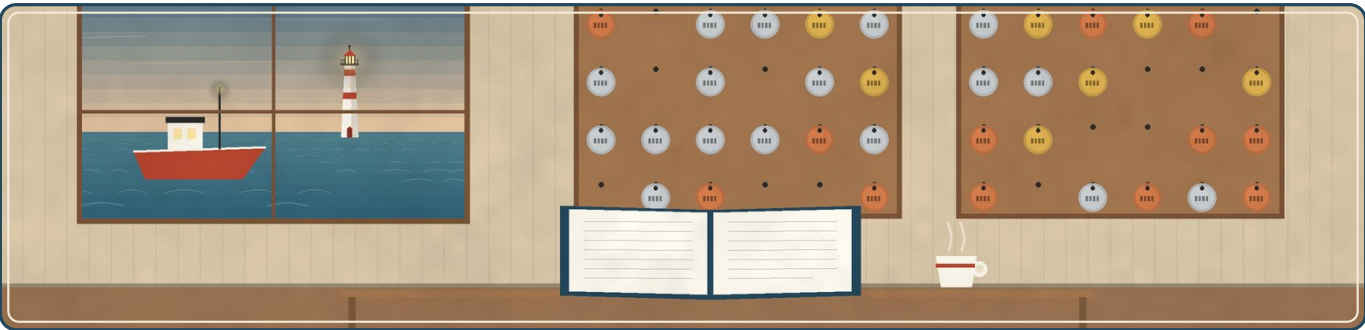

Candleholm Light stands on Candleholm, in the Sound between the mainland (east) and Inishvarra (west).
 The Dulse Reef lies just west of Candleholm. The Inner Passage runs between Candleholm and the reef; the Outer Passage runs west of the reef.
 Gannet Head is the headland north of the mouth of Loch Tarrisk, with the coastguard lookout on it. Selkie Ness is the headland between Lannagh and Polbrae.
 Loch Tarrisk runs east from its mouth to the Narrows, then on to the east and finally turns south to its head. Landings 13, 14, 15 and 16 are drawn further north than the Narrows; 17 and 18 further south.

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Bright and cold. Baked bread, mended the gallery rail, scolded Bosun for sleeping in the coal. Wrote to Gil Corkhill at the tally office in Port Tolland for a copy of his Sound Book: every soul who crosses the Sound this month gets a tally and a line in it. Whoever fills my boathouse must be in there somewhere.

Every soul who crossed the Sound from 1 to 23 December, on the day of their first crossing: 2,400 lines, in date and time order. Keep this window out of its envelope from now on: every window from tomorrow is checked against it.

Date, Time	the day of the first crossing, and when they stepped aboard (24-hour clock)
Tally	their tally number, 0001–2400 (drawn from a bag, not in date order)
First name, Surname	as written in the Sound Book
Home	their home village; every village is on the chart (Window 1)
Boat	Mail, Fishing, Tender or Pilot (the Mail Boat, a fishing boat, the Lights Tender, the Pilot Cutter)
Landing	the number of the landing where the boat put them ashore (chart, Window 1)
Box	an empty box for your own ticks

WINDOW 3 OF 24

3 DECEMBER

A Tally Already

3 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Up at two to trim the wick, and from the gallery I saw a hand lamp moving down at the boathouse. By the time I got my boots on, the boat was away. A thread of red wool on the nail by the door, the red of a channel buoy. Gil knows the cap: a red knitted cap with a white bobble. He says the fellow has his tally already this month.

HARBOUR TRUST – RULES OF THE SOUND BOOK

Every soul crossing the Sound in December is given a numbered tally on their first crossing.

The first crossing is written in the Sound Book with the date and the time. Later crossings are not written in again: show your tally.

The Sound Book is closed each evening at 8 o'clock.

TODAY'S QUESTION

By 3 December the red cap already had his tally. What does that tell you about his line in the Sound Book?

Work out what today's papers mean, then cross out every line in the Sound Book that doesn't fit. Only check the lines that are still in.

4 DECEMBER

The Inner Passage

4 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Dougie Strang keeps the coastguard lookout on Gannet Head and writes down every boat he sees through his telescope. He remembers the red cap on deck the first time he came over this month: his boat came through the Inner Passage, between us and the Dulse Reef. I have pinned the note of the passages here.

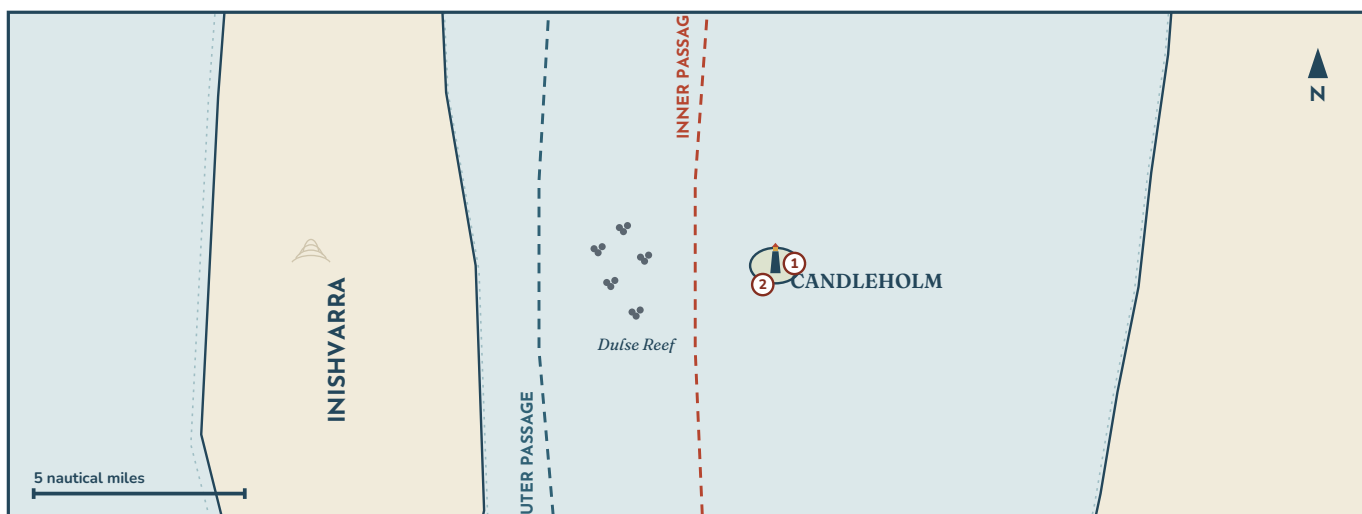

THE PASSAGES OF THE SOUND (FROM THE CHART)

Inner Passage: between Candleholm and the Dulse Reef. Used by the Mail Boat and the fishing boats.

Outer Passage: west of the Dulse Reef. Used by the Lights Tender and the Pilot Cutter, which draw too much water for the Inner Passage.

Note: at high water the Pilot Cutter may take the Inner Passage.

The Mail Boat's round: Port Tolland, Candleholm, the Inner Passage, the Inishvarra piers, then back across the Sound and up Loch Tarrisk.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Which boat brought him over on his first crossing?

Work out what today's papers mean, then cross out every line in the Sound Book that doesn't fit. Only check the lines that are still in.

Up the Loch

5 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

The Drummock brothers were at the creels off the Narrows on the day the red cap first came over. They watched his boat go by, and it set him ashore somewhere higher up Loch Tarrisk than the Narrows. They didn't see which landing. Bosun brought me a crab, which I had not asked for.

LOCH TARRISK – LANDINGS FROM THE MOUTH UP

From the mouth: 9 Lochmouth Slip, 10 Achnabrae Jetty, 11 Inverlash Pier, 12 Narrows Slip (at the Narrows), 13 Torrandhu Jetty, 14 Ardlarich Slip, 15 Ferrach Pier, 16 Balnacrae Pier, 17 Dunloch Slip, 18 Lochhead Quay (the head of the loch).

Above the Narrows the loch turns east, and then south to its head.

6 DECEMBER

Within Sight of the Light

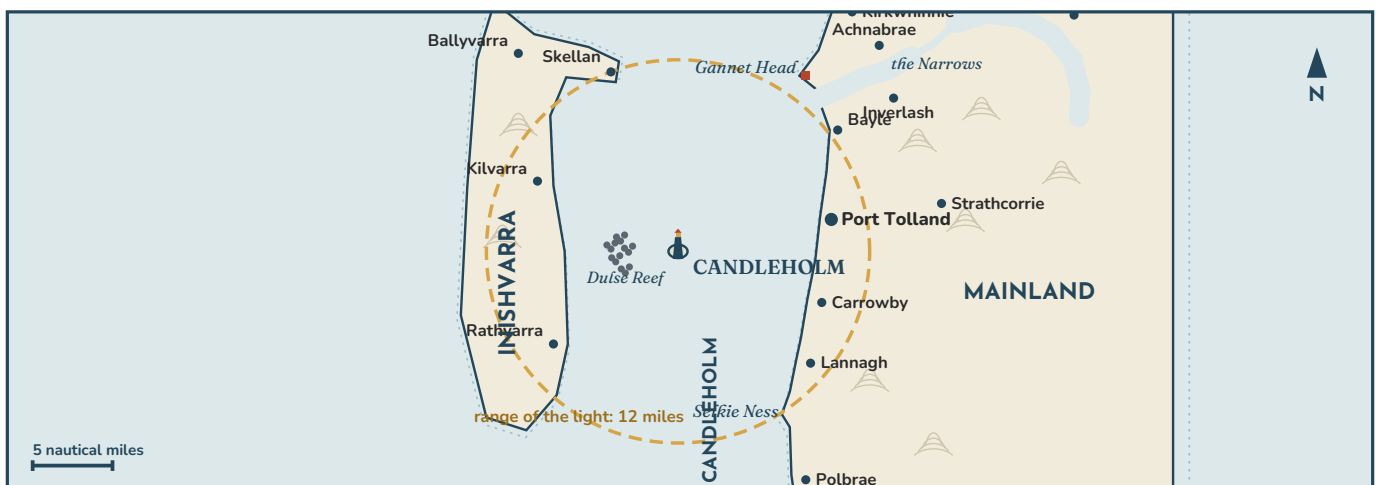

6 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Mrs Breck sent a fruit cake with the mail and a note. The red cap told her he can see my light from his own doorstep of a winter evening. So he lives within sight of Candleholm: inside the range of the light, which the chart shows as a dashed circle.

CANDLEHOLM LIGHT – WHERE IT CAN BE SEEN

Range: 12 nautical miles, shown on the chart as a dashed circle around the light.
 Inside the circle: Port Tolland, Carrowby, Lannagh, Kilvarra, Rathvarra.
 Right on the circle: Skellan. Every other village is outside it.

A Lamp in the Boathouse

7 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Two in the morning again, and the hand lamp at the boathouse. This time it flashed a message across to a boat waiting off the Dulse Reef. I only caught the end of it, where a man signs off with the first letter of his surname. That letter began with a long flash. I have copied out the code book page.

The Parcel Slip

8 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Gale in the night, calm by noon. Mrs Breck writes again. Last week the red cap signed for a parcel at her counter with his first name only, a quick scrawl she can't read now, but she remembers there was an A in it. She pinned a blank slip to her letter so I could see the sort of thing.

The Tally Boards

9 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Gil came out on the Tender with my coal and a copy of the Sound Book. When a traveller shows a tally at the quay, his clerk hangs it on one of two boards for a minute while the line is checked. Gil saw the red cap's tally go on the left-hand board.

THE TALLY OFFICE – THE TWO BOARDS AT THE QUAY

On the Flood

10 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Fog till ten. Gil showed me something in the skippers' lists: they note the tide beside the time whenever someone steps aboard and is given a tally. Beside the red cap's first crossing it says "tide making", which is to say rising. I have pinned up the tide table for the first week.

TIDE TABLE – SOUND OF CANDLEHOLM, FIRST WEEK OF DECEMBER

Date	High and low water
1 Dec	HW 04:10	LW 10:22	HW 16:35	LW 22:47
2 Dec	HW 05:00	LW 11:12	HW 17:25	LW 23:37
3 Dec	HW 05:50	LW 12:02	HW 18:15
4 Dec	LW 00:27	HW 06:40	LW 12:52	HW 19:05
5 Dec	LW 01:17	HW 07:30	LW 13:42	HW 19:55
6 Dec	LW 02:07	HW 08:20	LW 14:32	HW 20:45
7 Dec	LW 02:57	HW 09:10	LW 15:22	HW 21:35

HW = high water, LW = low water. 24-hour clock. The tide is making (rising) from each low water until the next high water, and falling from high water to low water.

Between the Heads

11 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Mended Bosun's basket. Bede Halloran of the Mail Boat came up for his tea. He says the red cap lives on the mainland coast somewhere between Gannet Head and Selkie Ness. Bede didn't know which village, and I didn't like to ask twice.

THE MAINLAND COAST (FROM THE CHART)

From north to south along the open coast: Ardvane, Kirkwhinnie, Gannet Head, the mouth of Loch Tarrisk, Bayle, Port Tolland, Carrowby, Lannagh, Selkie Ness, Polbrae. Achnabrae, Inverlash, Torrandhu and Balnacrae stand on the shores of Loch Tarrisk. Strathcorrie is inland. Kilvarra, Rathvarra, Ballyvarra and Skellan are on Inishvarra, across the Sound.

The Christmas Waybill

12 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

The Christmas waybill came out with the mail. Mrs Breck says the red cap collected a parcel the first time he came over, at the landing where he was put ashore. On the waybill she has marked where parcels can be left.

MAIL BOAT – CHRISTMAS WAYBILL

Christmas parcels are left only in the parcel sheds at landings 4, 13, 15, 16 and 20. Letters only (no parcels) go in the letter boxes at landings 1, 9, 19 and 23.

Gil's Lucky Tallies

14 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Gil has a game with the tallies: add up the four digits, and a big total is lucky for a fishing trip. He can't tell me the red cap's number (he hands out hundreds), but he remembers saying it was a lucky one: its digits add up to more than fifteen.

GIL'S TALLY GAME

More than fifteen is lucky for a fishing trip.

The Pilot's Log

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Ottilie Marsden of the Pilot Cutter lent me her log. The red cap went with her once, later in the month, and she wrote his first name and surname in it. The sea got at the page and only the tail of the last letter of each name is left, but the two tails are not the same: the names end with different letters.

PILOT CUTTER – PASSENGER LOG (EXTRACT)

Clear and very cold. Dougie Strang at the lookout watched the red cap step aboard for his first crossing of the month. It was in daylight, he says, before I lit the lamp that evening. I have pinned the almanac here, with my lighting-up times.

WINDOW 17 OF 24

17 DECEMBER

The Lost Mitten

17 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Bede found a red mitten on the Mail Boat after the red cap had been aboard, and gave it straight back to him on the quay. It had a laundry mark, two initials, first name then surname. Bede only remembers that they were the wrong way round, like a schoolboy's: the first comes later in the alphabet than the second.

LOST PROPERTY – ONE RED MITTEN

Laundry mark inside the cuff: two initials, first name then surname.
The first initial comes later in the alphabet than the second.

TODAY'S QUESTION

What do the two initials on the mitten tell you?

Work out what today's papers mean, then cross out every line in the Sound Book that doesn't fit. Only check the lines that are still in.

18 DECEMBER

No Noughts

18 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Gil again. When the red cap's tally was shown at the quay he noticed there wasn't a nought on it anywhere: fishermen hate a nought, so he always looks. Put up the holly over the door.

GIL'S NOTE

Not a nought on it, not one. — G. C.
(A tally always has four digits: 0472 has a nought.)

TODAY'S QUESTION

What did Gil notice about his tally?

CHECK-IN · WHERE YOU ARE NOW

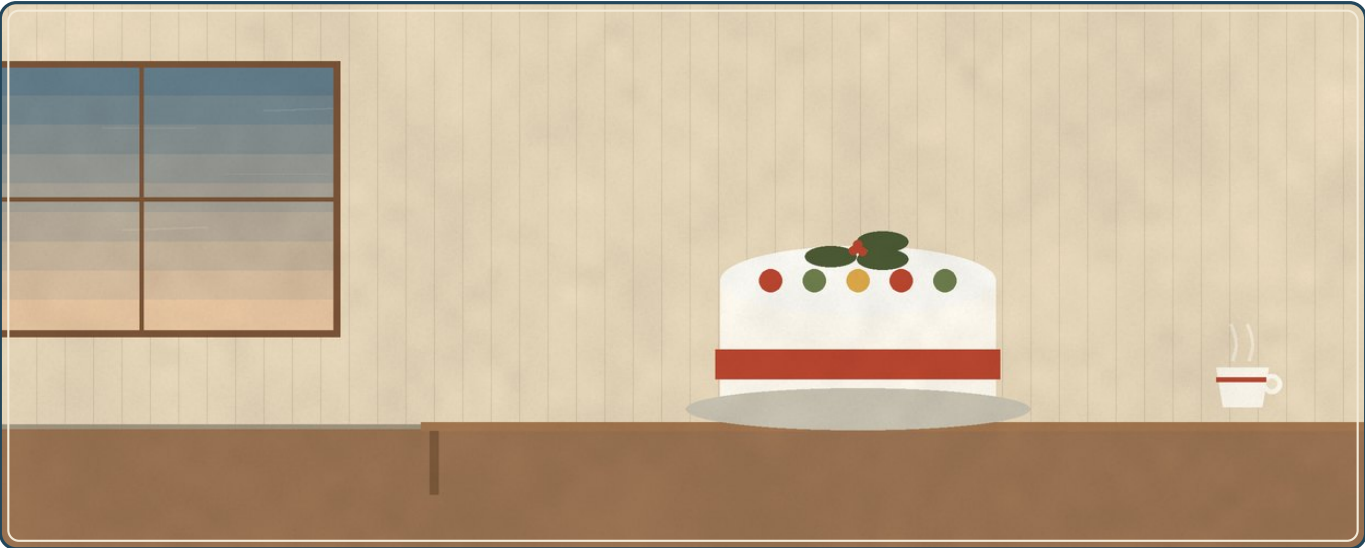

If you have used Windows 3 to 18, there should be 11 lines still in the Sound Book, and the chapters from 3 to 23 December are now completely crossed out. A few more is fine if you read a window generously: a later window will catch them. Fewer? Check the hints for the windows so far.

19 DECEMBER

The Iced Cake

19 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Nan Fairgrieve, who bakes in Port Tolland, iced a Christmas cake for the red cap with his surname on top in sugar letters. She ices forty cakes a week and can't recall the name, but she remembers it took exactly two of her vowel letters.

FAIRGRIEVE'S BAKERY – ORDER BOOK

Christmas cake, iced, surname on top in sugar letters.
Vowel letters used: 2. (A, E, I, O, U. Y is not one of my vowels. – N. F.)

TODAY'S QUESTION

What does the baker remember about his surname?

20 DECEMBER

Brass, Copper and Tin

20 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Tallies are cut in three metals so Gil can sort them at a glance: brass, copper and tin. He says the red cap's tally is copper. Bosun has discovered the Christmas ham.

THE TALLY OFFICE – TALLY METALS

Brass: 0001 to 0800.

Copper: 0801 to 1600.

Tin: 1601 to 2400.

BRASS

0001 – 0800

COPPER

0801 – 1600

TIN

1601 – 2400

A Name Called from the Jetty

21 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Went over to Port Tolland on the Tender for the Christmas messages. On the quay a man called out to the red cap by his first name over the noise of the gulls. I only caught the end of it: it ended hard, on a consonant, not on a vowel.

EZRA'S NOTE ON VOWELS

Vowels are A, E, I, O and U. Y is not a vowel. A name that ends in any other letter ends on a consonant.

TODAY'S QUESTION

What did Ezra hear at the end of his first name?

Work out what today's papers mean, then cross out every line in the Sound Book that doesn't fit. Only check the lines that are still in.

The Signwriter's Stencils

22 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

The signwriter in Port Tolland lettered the red cap's surname on a sea chest. She has lost the order and can't recall the name, but she cuts one stencil for each letter, and she didn't have to use any stencil twice.

SIGNWRITER'S BILL

One sea chest, surname lettered in white.
Stencils cut: one for each different letter. No stencil used twice.

TODAY'S QUESTION

What does the signwriter tell you about his surname?

Work out what today's papers mean, then cross out every line in the Sound Book that doesn't fit. Only check the lines that are still in.

23 DECEMBER

The Striped Scarf

23 December

FROM EZRA'S JOURNAL

Bede says the red cap wears a scarf knitted in the old way: one stripe for each letter of the wearer's first name and surname together, red first, then white, then red again. The last stripe, at the tassel end, is white. The red cap comes tonight for the parcels. I have moved them up into the tower store room, and I shall wait for him by the stove.

MRS BRECK'S KNITTING PATTERN

One stripe for each letter of the first name and the surname together.
Stripes: red, white, red, white... The first stripe is red.

Example: a name of 9 letters ends on a red stripe.

TODAY'S QUESTION

What does the scarf tell you about his name?

WINDOW 24 OF 24

24 DECEMBER

Christmas Eve

Christmas Eve. At 3.42 p.m., lighting-up time, Candleholm Light did not come on.

Bede Halloran saw the dark tower from the Mail Boat and brought her in to the East Landing in the dusk. He found Ezra at the foot of the tower stairs, with Bosun sitting beside him. The store room was empty. Ezra's journal lay open on the kitchen table, at the page for the 23rd.

If you have opened every window, one line is left in the Sound Book. That line belongs to the red cap.

Turn the page for the Sealed Check: it tells you whether you are right without printing his name anywhere in this calendar. Then open the Envelope, the separate solution file, to read what happened.

The Sealed Check

Found your one remaining line? Do this sum with its details (a phone calculator is fine). It confirms the answer without printing the killer's name anywhere in this calendar.

- 1 Take the tally number and multiply it by 4.
- 2 Count the letters in the first name and in the surname, and add both counts to the result.
- 3 Look at the last three digits of the total.

Tally number $\times 4 =$

If your last three digits are you have found the red cap. Open the Envelope to read what happened.

Not a match? Somewhere a line was kept or crossed out by mistake. The hints at the back show you which window to look at again, and the check-ins on Windows 6, 12 and 18 help you find where.

Level 2 — A stronger push · page 86

Level 3 — Nearly the answer · page 88

HINTS

Level 1 — A gentle nudge

- Window 3 Think about when Ezra wrote this, and what having a tally means.
- Window 4 Read the note of the passages: which boats use the Inner Passage?
- Window 5 Find the Narrows on the chart, then follow Loch Tarrisk from its mouth towards its head.
- Window 6 Find the dashed circle around Candleholm Light on the chart.
- Window 7 Look the letters up in the code book page: which ones start with a dash?
- Window 8 Look only at the first name.
- Window 9 Which numbers hang on the left-hand board?
- Window 10 Use the tide table for his date. Is the water going up or down at his time?
- Window 11 Find Gannet Head and Selkie Ness on the chart. Which villages are on the coast between them?
- Window 12 Read the waybill carefully: where can a parcel be collected?
- Window 13 Count the letters of the first name.
- Window 14 Add up the four digits of the tally number, zeros included.
- Window 15 Look only at the last letter of each name.
- Window 16 Use the almanac: when was the lamp lit on his date? Then turn it into the 24-hour clock.
- Window 17 Look at the first letter of each name.
- Window 18 Read all four digits of the tally number as printed.
- Window 19 Count the vowels in the surname.
- Window 20 Read the note of the tally metals.
- Window 21 Look only at the last letter of the first name.
- Window 22 Look at every letter of the surname.
- Window 23 Count the letters of the first name and the surname, then add them together.

HINTS

Level 2 — A stronger push

- Window 3 A tally is given on the first crossing, and the first crossing is the line in the Sound Book. By the evening of 3 December he already had his, so that line is dated 3 December or earlier.
- Window 4 The Inner Passage runs between Candleholm and the Dulse Reef. The Tender and the Pilot Cutter draw too much water for it and go round outside.
- Window 5 Higher up the loch means further from the sea than the Narrows, along the water. The Narrows Slip (12) is at the Narrows itself, not above it.
- Window 6 The circle shows how far the light can be seen: 12 miles. Inside the circle means within sight. Skellan sits right on the line, not inside it.
- Window 7 A dash is a long flash. Look only at the first symbol of each letter: G is – – · and starts with a dash; A is · – and starts with a dot.
- Window 8 Capital or small makes no difference: Agnes and Clara both contain an A.
- Window 9 Even numbers end in 0, 2, 4, 6 or 8. Tally 0472 is even.
- Window 10 The tide is making (rising) from a low water until the next high water. On the first three days of the month that is the middle of the day.
- Window 11 Follow the open coast south from Gannet Head to Selkie Ness. Villages on Loch Tarrisk, inland or on Inishvarra are not on that stretch of coast.
- Window 12 Parcels are left only in the parcel sheds. The letter boxes take letters, not parcels.
- Window 13 Exactly five letters: Moira, Grant and Morag count; Ruth (4) and Fergus (6) don't.
- Window 14 Tally 0472: $0 + 4 + 7 + 2 = 13$, not more than fifteen. Tally 1395: $1 + 3 + 9 + 5 = 18$, more than fifteen. Exactly fifteen is not more than fifteen.
- Window 15 Compare the last letter of the first name with the last letter of the surname: Angus Ross ends S and S (the same); Moira Bain ends A and N (different).
- Window 16 Lighting-up time is in the afternoon: 3.46 p.m. is 15:46. He stepped aboard before that.
- Window 17 The first name's initial must come later in the alphabet: Sadie Kerr (S after K) fits; Ada Muir (A before M) and Mary Muir (the same letter) don't.
- Window 18 A tally always has four digits, so 0472 has a nought in front. 1395 has none.

HINTS (CONTINUED)

Level 2 — A stronger push

- Window 19 Count every A, E, I, O and U, even when the same one comes twice; Y never counts. Moffat has two (O, A); Lindsay has two (I, A); Ogilvie has four.
- Window 20 Copper tallies are numbered from 0801 to 1600.
- Window 21 A, E, I, O and U are vowels; every other letter is a consonant, Y included. Angus and Mary end on a consonant; Effie and Flora don't.
- Window 22 If any letter appears twice, even far apart, a stencil was used twice: Rennison fails (N), Laidlaw fails (L, A), Barclay fails (A), Munro passes.
- Window 23 Red, white, red, white: the last stripe is white when the number of stripes is even. Iona Rae has $4 + 3 = 7$ letters, which is odd.

HINTS

Level 3 — Nearly the answer

- Window 3 His line is dated 1, 2 or 3 December. The Sound Book is in date order: cross out every chapter from 4 December to 23 December.
- Window 4 His boat was Mail or Fishing. Cross out every line whose boat is Tender or Pilot.
- Window 5 His landing is 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 or 18. Cross out every line with any other landing number.
- Window 6 His village is Port Tolland, Carrowby, Lannagh, Kilvarra or Rathvarra. Cross out every line from any other village.
- Window 7 The surname begins with B, C, D, G, K, M, N, O, Q, T, X, Y or Z. Cross out every line whose surname begins with any other letter.
- Window 8 Cross out every line whose first name has no A in it.
- Window 9 Cross out every line whose tally number ends in 1, 3, 5, 7 or 9.
- Window 10 The tide was rising on 1 December 10:22–16:35; 2 December 11:12–17:25; 3 December 12:02–18:15. Cross out every line whose time is outside the rising tide on its own date.
- Window 11 His village is Bayle, Port Tolland, Carrowby or Lannagh. Cross out every line from any other village.
- Window 12 His landing is 4, 13, 15, 16 or 20. Cross out every line with any other landing number.
- Window 13 Cross out every line whose first name has fewer or more than five letters.
- Window 14 Cross out every line whose four digits add up to 15 or less.
- Window 15 Cross out every line whose first name and surname end with the same letter.
- Window 16 Lighting-up was at 15:46 on the 1st, 15:45 on the 2nd, 15:44 on the 3rd. Cross out every line whose time is at or after lighting-up on its own date.
- Window 17 Cross out every line whose first name begins with a letter that comes earlier in the alphabet than the surname's first letter, or with the same letter.
- Window 18 Cross out every line whose tally number has a 0 anywhere in it.
- Window 19 Cross out every line whose surname has fewer or more than two vowels.
- Window 20 Cross out every line whose tally number is 0800 or lower, or 1601 or higher.

HINTS (CONTINUED)

Level 3 — Nearly the answer

Window 21 Cross out every line whose first name ends in A, E, I, O or U.

Window 22 Cross out every line whose surname uses any letter more than once.

Window 23 Cross out every line whose first name and surname together have an odd number of letters.

QUIETCLUECO

Thank you, detective

Thank you for spending Advent on Candleholm. We hope Ezra's journal, the tides and the red knitted cap kept you guessing until Christmas Eve.

Every QuietClueCo case is written and drawn by hand and checked by a computer program before it reaches you. The program confirms that there is exactly one answer, that every window is needed, and that the answer does not change if a window is read in a slightly different way, including the words on the chart and in the almanac such as through, higher up, near, between, rising and before, and the a.m. and p.m. of the lighting-up times.

If you enjoyed the calendar, a short review helps other detectives find us.
