What really happened

The red cap was Jonas Garvock, tally 1478, a carter from Carrowby.

Jonas loaded the Christmas mail onto the boats at Port Tolland. For three winters he had taken a few parcels at a time from the sacks for Inishvarra, cut off the labels, and rowed them over to Candleholm at night, where nobody would look: the old boathouse, under a sail. In January he sold what was in them.

His first crossing of December was on the 2nd: he stepped aboard the Mail Boat at Port Tolland at 13:38, on a rising tide, two hours before Ezra lit the lamp. The boat went round by Candleholm and the Inner Passage, called at Inishvarra and set him ashore at Ferrach Pier, high up Loch Tarrisk, where he collected a parcel from the shed. He showed his copper tally, 1478, on every crossing after that, and on the nights he rowed over to Candleholm he needed no tally at all.

His brother-in-law, who fished out of Polbrae and asked no questions, waited off the Dulse Reef on the nights there were parcels to carry away, and Jonas signalled to him from the boathouse with a hand lamp, signing off with a G, just as Ezra saw.

Ezra found the parcels on the 1st and wrote everything down. On the night of the 23rd Jonas came for the parcels and found the boathouse empty. He saw the tower door ajar and climbed to the store room. Ezra, who had been waiting by the stove in the cottage, followed him up and stood on the stairs between Jonas and the door. Jonas pushed past him in the dark and ran with the parcels, and Ezra fell.

Superintendent Treleaven read the journal one page at a time, just as Ezra had written it, and on Twelfth Night the parcels went home to Inishvarra. Bede Halloran took Bosun on the Mail Boat, where he is now a ship's cat. And every evening at lighting-up time, Candleholm Light comes on again.

THE SOLUTION

Day by day

What each window means and how many lines it rules out, in calendar order.

DAY	WINDOW	WHAT IT TELLS YOU	OUT	LEFT
		Window 2: the Sound Book		2,400
3	A Tally Already	He had his tally by the evening of 3 December, so his first crossing was on 1, 2 or 3 December.	1,256	1,144
4	The Inner Passage	He came through the Inner Passage, between Candleholm and the Dulse Reef. Only the Mail Boat and the fishing boats use it, so his boat was Mail or Fishing.	497	647
5	Up the Loch	He was put ashore higher up Loch Tarrisk than the Narrows: following the loch from its mouth, one of the landings past the Narrows Slip (13 to 18).	547	100
6	Within Sight of the Light	He lives within sight of the light: his village is inside the dashed circle on the chart, the 12 miles that Candleholm Light can be seen (Port Tolland, Carrowby, Lannagh, Kilvarra or Rathvarra).	56	44
7	A Lamp in the Boathouse	The first letter of his surname begins with a long flash (a dash) in Morse: B, C, D, G, K, M, N, O, Q, T, X, Y or Z.	7	37
8	The Parcel Slip	His first name contains the letter A.	5	32
9	The Tally Boards	He hung his tally on the left-hand board, which takes the even numbers. His tally number is even.	3	29
10	On the Flood	The tide was making (rising): his first crossing was after a low water and before the next high water on that day's tide table.	4	25
11	Between the Heads	He lives on the mainland coast between Gannet Head and Selkie Ness: Bayle, Port Tolland, Carrowby or Lannagh.	2	23
12	The Christmas Waybill	He collected a Christmas parcel at the landing where he came ashore. Parcels are left only in the parcel sheds at landings 4, 13, 15, 16 and 20, so his landing is one of those.	1	22
13	A Card on the Nail	His first name has exactly five letters.	3	19
14	Gil's Lucky Tallies	The four digits of his tally number add up to more than 15 (16 or more).	2	17
15	The Pilot's Log	His first name and his surname end with different letters.	2	15
16	Before the Lamp Was Lit	Not yet: his first crossing was before lighting-up time on that day (the almanac's 3.46 p.m. is 15:46 on the Sound Book's 24-hour clock).	1	14
17	The Lost Mitten	The first letter of his first name comes later in the alphabet than the first letter of his surname.	2	12
18	No Noughts	His tally number has no 0 in it: none of its four digits is a nought.	1	11
19	The Iced Cake	His surname has exactly two vowels (A, E, I, O and U, counting every one; Y is never a vowel).	2	9
20	Brass, Copper and Tin	His tally was copper, and copper tallies are numbered 0801 to 1600.	2	7
21	A Name Called from the Jetty	His first name ends with a consonant (any letter other than A, E, I, O or U; Y counts as a consonant).	2	5
22	The Signwriter's Stencils	No letter appears twice anywhere in his surname.	2	3
23	The Striped Scarf	His first name and surname together have an even number of letters.	2	1
